Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance, so that by always having enough of everything, you may share abundantly in every good work.

II Corinthians 9:7-8

Each year Nassau Presbyterian Church depends upon the generosity of our congregation to carry out our mission. I have the dual privilege of asking you and thanking you for your support. I ask because I believe that each one of us has been called to be a part of flourishing congregation with untapped potential and that God is always calling us to be and to do more. In thanking you in advance, I am deeply grateful to God for the financial commitment that enables this church to thrive. We simply cannot carry out the mission of God here and now without faithful giving.

More than 75% of our revenue comes from those who pledge. Pledges, in any and every amount, provide the framework of support. From that funding base, ministry multiplies at Nassau Church; in our passionate worship, in our bold commitment to outreach, and in dedication to education in the Christian faith for all ages. Over and over again, I find myself humbled and a bit in awe by what I see unfolding around me. I can't be the only one who shakes a head in wonder after a service of worship on the Lord's Day, or the only one who finds the unquestioned commitment to advocacy, service, and compassion both heartwarming and unrelenting in its challenge, or the only one who sees individual lives transformed along this discipleship path we travel together.

I invite you to be an integral part of the ministry of Nassau Presbyterian Church. Every pledge is important. This year we invite you to be specific in the pledging of your time and talent as well. By God's grace, we are building a remarkable community of Christ's servants and I want you to continue to be a part of it. As new people join us in the work God has entrusted to us, and as those in our community who pledge commit to growing their giving year after year, I expect that God will continue to do great things among us, through us, and beyond us.

Nassau Presbyterian Church is a believing, serving, thinking, creating, and welcoming community that knows itself to be the Body of Christ for one another, for our community, and for the world.

Thank you for your place here with us.

With grace and peace

David A. Davis
